FRANK FARRELL'S BLUES WINS

HE TAKES SHEEPSHEAD BAY HANDICAP FROM HUNTER RAINE.

Race King Victorious in Stirring Finish for the Zephyr Stakes—Toscan Re-peats in the Opening Sprint—August Belmont's Fire Eater an Easy Winner.

The Sheepshead Bay Handicap, the second serial of the June Handicaps run at Sheepshead Bay yesterday, went to the credit of Blues, Francil's five-year-old son of Site Divor and Beanin Elization. Blues, Frank Farrel's hve-year-out son of Sir Dixon and Bonnie Blue II., who started the betting choice of a field in which were Hunter Raine, Articulate, Igniter, Dr. Saylor, His Eminence and Himself. Next to Blues at the finish and pressing him closely was Hunter Raine.

Blues always had the call with those specu-Blues always had the call with those spectal atively inclined, but attracted but little play from the so-called wise set, and the odds against him receded to 2 to 1 before post call, while Hunter Raine, Igniter and Articulate were Hunter Raine, Igniter and Articulate were carrying the play of the heavier speculators.

There seemed to be reason for the neglect of Blues in the remembrance of the incident in the running of the Coney Island Handicap when the Farrell horse was thrown against the rail by Lady Uncas. There was nothing in the running of Blues yesterday to indicate that he was not at his best. He shouldered top weight of 119 pounds, made his own pace simost from the start and after a hard drive through the final quarter came to the finish a safe winner over Hunter Raine and Himself, who were fighting hard for second place. Hunter Raine was far back of the pacemaker until reaching the stretch turn, where the rail by Lady Uncas. There was nothing maker until reaching the stretch turn, where he began to close in with a rush that, had it begun a trifle earlier, would probably have carried him to victory. As it was he closed an enormous gap and was catching Blues with every stride.

The Zephyr Stakes brought to the post side of nine two-year-olds of rather or field of nine two-year-olds of rather or-dinary calibre, not one of which would be considered in the same class with Commando, have scored in the previous runnings of this race. Favoritism in the betting was divided have scored in the previous runnings of this race. Favoritism in the betting was divided between the C. P. Waterhouse entry, Toledo and Rockaway, and R. W. Walden's Monsoon, while Race King, although well liked by his owner, was allowed to go to the post at 12 to 1. The race was at five and a half furlongs of the Futurity course, and Race King was always with the front division, which also included Toledo and Monsoon. Monsoon dropped out early in the race and Toledo and Race King bore the brunt of making the pace until nearing the finish, when Greencreat and Tim Payne joined in the issue. Race King under a rattling drive led to the end, where he had only a narrow margin to spare. Greencrest, Tim Payne and Toledo finished heads apart behind him.

John E. Madden showed a fine-looking colt in the fifth race in Alliance, who made his first public appearance in the five-furlong dash for maiden two year-olds. He was made favorite and showed early speed, but found the trip too far and though desperately ridden by O'Neil gave way at the end to A. L. Aste's Goldepink, who won with something to spare from J. B. Haggin's Modred.

The Columbia Stable's Toscan repeated his clever mud performance of Tuesday by running away with the opening event, at six and a half furlongs, for which he was an 18 to 5 second choice. Burns had the mount and, rushing Toscan away from the post in front, kept him there without trouble to the end, Ascension and W. R. Condon being next behind him.

With only three to go in the second race, it looked to form calculators to be a close fit between August Belmont's Fire Eater and William C. Whitney's Payne. Fire Eater took an easy command half a mile from home and won without being extended.

The race over the grass was selected as the time for a killing on T. D. Sullivan's Squanto, who was heavily played at favorite's price. Squanto trailed all the way and finished with the rear division of the field, which was headed at the finish by Lady Potentate, a 6 to 1 chance, with Arden second and Satire thir

CINCINNATI. 5: NEW YORK (A. L.), 0—FIRST OAME.

The Cincinnatis are the New York National League team's pet aversion. When the Red legs come to the Polo Grounds they show speed and dash and eyes like eagles for clubbing the leather. The Harlem ozone is a powerful stimulant to them. Its stimulating qualities made them altogether too chipper for the New Yorks yesterday and they shut the home team out in the first game and jumped all over them in the second.

The Cincinnatis sent the pitching of both McGinnity and Taylor crashing to the limits of the playing space with a noticeable amount of left field hitting, and the New Yorks played an erratic fielding game. Here and there were sharp plays, but the home team's work was unreliable. One exception was Mertes, who played a brilliant game in left field. He was no better, however, than Mike Donlin, who also batted flercely. Tom Daly, the baseball nomad, played second base with all the ginger of a youngster. Besides, his maturer judgment enabled him to play just right for the batters. In the first game he retired Van Haltren on ground hits every time the latter came to the bat, and, all told, the veteran played as efficient and artistic a second base as could be played.

Umpire Bob Emslie was a target for swift foul tips. Half a dozen of them rapped his suffering anatomy until it was a mottled black and blue. The New Yorks could not hit Hahn in the first game. McGinnity, or the contrary, was jostled more rudely than is his custom. The Reds won the game by long hits, coupled with a muff by Bresnahan and wildness by McGinnity.

The Reds mixed up their batting in the second game. They whacked the ball far, tapped it softly to safe spots in the infield. and, when a hit and run move was the thing, laced it between the worried New York infielders. McGinnity as easy, but Taylor was a joyful sinecure for the rampant Reds. Both Bowerman and Warner threw to bases with rare precision, but the Reds did not have to steal bases. The artillery they unlimbered at the plate was an att

BROOKLYN, 10; CHICAGO (N. L. ), 7—FIRST GAME. Brooklyn turned a possible defeat into a victory by a rally at the bat in the seventh inning of the first game at Washington Park yesterday. Both pitchers had been hit freely up to that time, with honors in favor of Schmidt, who kept the hits scattered. Lundgren, however, went up in the air in the seventh inning. Strang, the first batter up, waited and got a free pass and went to second on Sheckard's well-placed single to left. Dobbs got in a sacrifice. Doyle picked out a nice one for two bags, scoring Strang and Sheckard. Dahlen followed with a single, scoring Doyle. Dahlen stole second just as Jacklitsch hit the ball in the nose for three bags, Dahlen scoring. On Tinker's wild throw Jacklitsch scored.

Both teams were keyed up to the highest pitch in the second game, and it developed into a pitchers' battle. In the first inning Sheckard kicked and was put out of the game. Jennings took his place and received an ovation when he came to the bat. Chicago won the game by bunching hits.

POLO.

George Gould and His Sons Ald Lakewood Team to Win Junior Champtonship. PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The National Junior Polo championship was won to-day by the Lakewood team, which defeated the Foxhunters, otherwise known as the Bryn Mawr second team, by the score of 14% goals to 6%. The game was played on the field at Bala, and a crowd of about 10,000 persons looked from the stands and points of tage around the field.

It was a magnificent game of polo, abounding in startling plays; some sensational work was done by both teams. If the teams had been playing under their handicaps, Lakewood would have had to concede ten goals to the Foxhunters. The fact that George Gould and his sons.

Jay and Kingdon, were to perform on the field attracted a large crowd to West Fairmount Park. The assurance of a splendid exhibition added to the drawing powers of exhibition added to the drawing powers of the Goulds, and the result was that standing room was at a big premium. Mrs. Gould accompanied her husband and sons. She shunned the grand stand and, taking up her position along the side boards, "rooted" lustily and enthusiastically for "her team." Mrs. Gould displayed such interest that it was necessary at one time for a policeman to request her to step back from the playing field. She showed much indignation at this, and it was only when several gentlemen calmed her that she was willing to step back and occupy a place further from the field of play.

and occupy a place further from the field of play.

In the second period, with one minute to play, the fight on the field became intensified and George Harrison, who was playing for his brother Harry, rode across Kingdon Gould. There was a crash and both men went to the ground. Neither was injured more than being shaken up. Mr. Harrison bruised an eye. It was then decided to end the period and add the minute to the following period.

Lacrosse. PHILADELPHIA, June 25.-Excellent teamwork on the part of the combined teams of Oxford and Cambridge universities caused the defeat of the University of Pennsylvania lacrosse team on the field of the German-town Cricket Club this afternoon by the score town Cricket Club this afternoon by the score of 5 to 1. The big English defence men made the Red and Blue men resemble pygmies. Pennsylvania opened the game by rushing the play in the visitors' territory and scoring the first goal. Smith was the thrower. Bickford Smith for the English team then scored. After a hard tussie, in which Rutherford and Goldsmith of Pennsylvania gave a brilliant display of teamwork, the same visitor placed the ball in the net. In the second half the clever Englishman found the net for two scores. His teammate, Ross, secured a point, and here Pennsylvania braced and kept the ball safe for the rest of the game. Spicer and Coburn played the best game for the visitors, while Oliver, Clemenson, Rutherford and Smith were the Trojans for the Quaker team.

PHILADELPHIANS BIG SCORE. With One Wicket to Fall American Cricketers Make 310 Against Kent.

315 Brommay New York

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, June 25.—The Philadelphian cricketers began the sixth game of their tour at the pretty grounds of Kent County at Beckenham to-day. The visitors were anxious to make a good showing here, for on the occasion of their visit is 1897 Kent de-feated them by no less than an innings and nine runs and put up the big score of 454. Fortunately the weather was better than it has been for some time and the improved condition of the wicket was all in favor of the Philadelphians, who obtained the advantage of batting first. They made the most of this, and held possession of the wickets all day. The batting, too, was good all through and when play ceased this evening the total stood at 310 for nine wickets. F. C. Sharpless and T. C. Jordan are still undisposed of and are likely to still further advance the score.

With the exception of C. C. Morris, P. H. Clark and E. M. Cregar, all the men who went to the wickets acquitted themselves in good style. J. A. Lester made top score with an innings of 70, in which there was but one chance when he had scored 37. His partnership with J. B. King for the second wicket yielded 100 runs. The batsmen formed various partnerships, all of which were productive. First King and Lester, then Lester and Bohlen, then Wood and Graves and last Sharpless and Brown, all formed good teams. The game will be continued in the morning. ing the total stood at 310 for nine wickets

Cricket Notes.

The Paterson Cricket Club was expected to play the Brooklyn team yesterday at Prospect Park, but owing to the threatening weather decided not to make the journey. The Windsor Terrace team volunteered to fill the gap and a good game was played, which finally resulted in a win for Brooklyn by 12 runs. E. J. Atwood and W. Adam, were the chief run getters for Brooklyn, while for Windsor Terrace, F. Jones carried his bat through the innings for 41 and E. O. Challenger played well for 18. The score: Windsor Terrace, 81: Brooklyn, 93.

Mare Drops Dead in Parkway Harness Races.

After two postponements the annual races of the Hudson and Mohawk Valley State Racing Circuit began at the Parkway Driving Club yesterday. Owing to the wet track only two races were decided.

An unfortunate accident happened in the second heat of the race for 2:3. class trotters. Baroness Ma Belle, owned by Mrs. William H. Jenks of Brooklyn, who had taken fourth place in the initial heat, got the lead in the backstretch of the last circuit. She broke badly, reared and was pulled down to a trot. The mare then swerved, throwing her driver, the veteran W. H. Snyder, out of the sulky. She fell on the track and died in less than four minutes. Lorna McGregor, selling at $10 to $6 for the field in the pools, was beaten by Florence Lowe. Thomas W. Murphy, driving James Butler's mare Lady Direct, won the 2:20 pacing event.
